SAFETY PROGRAM

The Governor's Highway Safety Program

The Governor's Highway Safety Program (GHSP) was created in 1967 by legislation which empowered the Governor to contract with the U.S. Department of Transportation for the purpose of securing funding through the Highway Safety Act of 1966, Section 402. This funding provides for the administration of a highway safety program designed to reduce traffic crashes and the resulting deaths, injuries and property damage.

The nine major areas of funding are occupant protection, police traffic services, speed control, traffic records, emergency medical services, motorcycles, pedestrians/bicycles, roadside safety and prevention of alcohol/drug-related crashes.

The GHSP consists of 21 staff positions representing planning, programming, evaluation, fiscal management, public information and education. The GHSP's mission is to plan and execute a comprehensive highway traffic safety program for North Carolina to reduce the number of fatalities and injuries on the state's roadways.

The GHSP was selected to participate in a national demonstration project to further highway safety in North Carolina. This public-private partnership, called the Governor's Highway Safety Initiative, is a model for the nation. It uses enhanced law enforcement/public education and focuses on seat belt usage, impaired driving and speeding. The initiative increased statewide seat belt usage to 83 percent--one of the highest rates in the nation--and has reduced late-night impaired driving to less than 1 in 100--the lowest rate ever measured in the U.S.

The first phase, "Click It or Ticket," launched the initiative in 1993 to increase seat belt and child safety seat use through stepped-up enforcement of the state's primary seat belt law. Before "Click It or Ticket" began, 65 percent of North Carolinians buckled up. The remaining 35 percent cost the majority of North Carolina taxpayers millions of dollars in emergency services and other health care costs. Because of the program, seat belt use jumped to 83 percent. Since "Click it or Ticket" began in 1993, North Carolina has seen a 14 percent decline in fatalities and serious injuries and a savings of more than $118 million in health care costs, not including costs associated with loss of productivity.

After achieving a dramatic increase in seat belt usage, the initiative added to its 1994-95 efforts by cracking down on impaired drivers with the most extensive driving while impaired (DWI) law enforcement and education effort in North Carolina history called "Booze It & Lose It." Law enforcement officers are now conducting sobriety checkpoints in every North Carolina county. Already, 24,373 checkpoints and roving patrols have netted 39,144 DWI arrests.

Many counties have joined the initiative by establishing county highway safety coalitions to stop the tragedy of traffic crashes. The U.S. Secretary of Transportation has praised the initiative as an outstanding example for the U.S. DOT's campaign to reduce alcohol-related fatalities and increase seat belt use.

The GHSP also coordinates and is the administering agency for the Governor's Highway Safety Commission (GHSC). The commission establishes statewide highway safety goals and objectives, reviews proposed highway safety legislation, analyzes information related to highway safety, surveys public opinion, establishes innovative highway safety programs and advises the Governor on ways to promote highway safety in North Carolina.

In addition to the GHSC, the GHSP also coordinates and is the administering agency for the Governor's Council for Young Adult Drivers. This council is an advisory committee to the GHSC. The council is responsible for the research and evaluation of problems associated with automobile crashes involving young adults. The council issues annual recommendations to the Governor, the Speaker of the North Carolina House of Representatives, the President Pro-Tempore of the North Carolina Senate, the Chairman of the North Carolina State Board of Education, and the GHSC. These recommendations become part of the official State of North Carolina Young Adult Traffic Safety Plan once they are approved.

The GHSP operates and schedules the North Carolina Highway Safety Exposition (Expo). The award-winning Expo is a 50-foot trailer with interactive highway safety exhibits. The Expo features animated robotic characters and an impaired driving simulator. This exhibit travels across North Carolina carrying a lively highway safety message to street fairs, schools and conferences.

The following represents the GHSP's plan for 1998-1999:

TRANSPORTATION

AVIATION PROGRAM

Transportation Improvement Program-Aviation Element
State Aid to Airports Program
Projects Recommended for Fiscal Years 1999-2002

Notes: Projects shown in the State Aid to Airports Program represent grants of state and federal funds to local governments unless otherwise noted. The recipient government is normally responsible for all planning and environmental review, project design, and construction administration.

Funds shown, other than for projects in the State Block Grant Program, are the estimated state share of the approved project. Additional local matching funds in ratios varying from 4% to 50% of the total cost of approved work elements will be required to carry out the project.

Allocations shown are dependent upon adequate federal and state funding allocations and are subject to revision should legislative authorizations be different than projections. Block Grant allocations shown are only those for which federal funds are believed to be assured. It is likely that additional federal funds will be available during the program and allocations to more projects will be made at appropriate times. Airports with commercial airline service will receive their federal allocations directly from FAA and the state share will be considered upon FAA approval.

“Multi-year” means a project which is phased or funded for construction over two or more Fiscal Years.

Due to reorganization of the long range planning functions of the Department of Transportation, the Aviation Element is being published only for the period covered under last year's program. The fifth and subsequent years of the Aviation Element will be determined as part of the FY 2000 TIP process.
